

Large majorities of voters in Maine recognize the importance of the forest products industry to the state's economy – almost half of voters believe the industry is very important.

Importance of the Forest Products Industry to Maine's Economy

Among all (n=619)